Asian Studies Minor

Students who minor in Asian studies should refer to the Area Studies Minor Requirements. The minor requires 15 credit hours of coursework. The first six credit hours (two courses) must be chosen from the Core Courses or the Global Perspective. The next nine credit hours (three courses) must be chosen from the Asian studies regional specialization curriculum. At least one course must be selected from the social sciences group and at least one course must be selected from the humanities and arts group. At least nine hours must be at the 3000 level or above.

A cocurricular requirement for the minor in Asian studies is two years of college-level study of an Asian language. To maximize the educational experience, students are strongly encouraged to spend at least one term or summer studying in Asia. Most of the courses taught in University study abroad programs in Asia may be applied to the Asian studies minor.

European Studies Minor

Students who minor in European Studies should refer to the Area Studies Minor Requirements. The minor requires 15 credit hours of coursework. The first six credit hours (two courses) must be chosen from the Core Courses or the Global Perspective. The next nine credit hours (three courses) must be chosen from the European studies regional specialization curriculum. At least one course must be selected from the social sciences group and at least one course must be selected from the humanities and arts group. At least nine hours must be at the 3000 level or above.

A cocurricular requirement for the minor in European studies is two years of college-level study of a European language other than English. To maximize the educational experience, students are strongly encouraged to spend at least one term or summer studying in Europe. Most of the courses taught in University study abroad programs in Europe may be applied to the European studies minor.

Enrollment and Academic Records

Updated Grading Policy Information

The following changes to enrollment and records standards were approved on April 1, 2020, effective for the Spring Term 2020.

The changes were made in consideration of the impact on undergraduate students from the change in teaching modality as well as other unusual personal and educational circumstances due to the worldwide COVID-19 outbreak in Spring 2020. In providing these temporary changes it is hoped to minimize extra work for faculty, encourage students to finish their courses, and provide flexibility for individual students' circumstances.

These policy updates apply only to undergraduate-level coursework attempted in the Spring 2020 academic term by all undergraduate students. The Provost may, upon consultation with the Deans and vote of the Faculty Senate, renew this policy for subsequent terms that are affected by circumstances related to COVID-19.

Conveys credit for the course but does not carry grade points, and is not included in the GPA.

Satisfies general education requirements with two exceptions. Satisfies prerequisite or major/minor requirements of D- or higher. Students should consult with the department or their academic advisor.

- No Credit (“NC”)

For undergraduate-level courses in which the student earns a grade of F.

Does not convey credit and does not impact GPA.

Does not satisfy prerequisite, major/minor and general education requirements.

For required courses, the student must retake a course for which a grade of “NC” is recorded.

The options under this policy do not count toward the maximum number of courses taken under the separate SMU Pass/Fail policy.

Graduate-level courses are graded according to the policy for courses in the respective graduate school or program. Undergraduate students enrolled in graduate-level courses should consult with the department or their academic advisor.

an official score of at least 6.5 on the IELTS Academic English competency test with recommended subscores of at least: 6.5 Reading, 6.5 Listening, 7.5 Speaking, 6.5 Writing. Because SMU values class participation and a writing-intensive curriculum, particular emphasis is placed on speaking and writing skills. Students who score less than 6.5 are generally not offered admission* to SMU, or an official score of at least 60 on the Pearson Test of English (PTE Academic). Students who score less than 60 are generally not offered admission* to SMU, or an official score of at least 115 on the Duolingo English Test (DET). Students who score less than 115 are generally not offered admission to SMU, or evidence of successful completion of SMU's Intensive English Program with a recommendation for degree study at SMU from the IEP Director.

*Students not offered admission to SMU based on English proficiency may be offered conditional admission pending completion of SMU's Intensive English Program (IEP) www.smu.edu/iep. SMU has successfully provided support for English language learners through its IEP and dedicated coursework for students whose first-language is not English. The University uses these tests to provide the best possible path for success to our students whose native language is not English.

To evaluate more fully a new student's readiness for the SMU classroom, those students offered admission based on scores from one of the above tests must complete an English language placement exercise prior to beginning classes. The results will determine appropriate placement in first-year composition courses. SMU offers such courses to support an English language learner's academic success. In cases where a student's skills are not sufficient to begin for-credit course work, SMU may require the student to complete the Intensive English Program prior to beginning a degree program at SMU.
