

age

RESEARCH EXCHANGE ON MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS
MATH TRAINING IN JAMAICA

age,

PREPARING EDUCATORS WITH TEACH FOR AMERICA
FACULTY NEWS

age,

DEAN'S MESSAGE
UPCOMING EVENTS

Screen

LOOKING AT SIMMONS OVER 10 YEARS

EXCHANGING IDEAS AND METHODS IN MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS RESEARCH

Aimed at providing a candid and detailed overview of the current state of MS research, the conference was held in Sydney, Australia, from 15-17 October 2015. The event was organized by the Sydney Multiple Sclerosis Research Association (SMURA) in partnership with the University of Sydney and the Sydney Multiple Sclerosis Research Centre. The conference was held at the Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre (SCX) and was attended by over 100 researchers from around the world.

LUMINARY AWARDS

A group of four people, two men and two women, standing together and holding trophies. They are dressed in formal attire. The trophies are gold and have a globe-like design. The background is a plain wall.

PILOTING WORK IN JAMAICA

A group of about 15 people, including men and women, standing together for a group photo. Some are wearing Sydney University clothing. They are in an indoor setting, possibly a hallway or meeting room.

[Name], senior lecturer in Wellness, received national recognition as one of the 25 highest rated professors in Rate My Professor.com's annual review. Fennig, no. 11, is the only SMU faculty member to be ranked. According to The Daily Campus, ratings came from over 15 million student reviews and considered 1.8 million professors.

[Name], assistant professor in Education Policy and Leadership, received national recognition as one of the 25 highest rated professors in Rate My Professor.com's annual review. Fennig, no. 1. O-9.ipr in Policy and Learning, received national recognition as one of the 25 highest rated professors in Rate My Professor.com's annual review. Fennig, no. 11, is the only SMU faculty member to be ranked. According to The Daily Campus, ratings came from over 15 million student reviews and considered 1.8 million professors.

YOUR SUPPORT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

At Southern Methodist University, we are committed to providing a world-class education for our students. Our faculty and staff are dedicated to creating a vibrant and supportive learning environment. We rely on the generosity of our donors to help us meet our financial needs and provide the best possible experience for our students.

Your support makes a difference in the lives of our students and the success of our university. We thank you for your commitment to SMU.

It is the generosity of donors like you that allows us to continue to grow and improve. Your support is essential to our mission and vision. We are grateful for the trust you have placed in us and the impact you are making on the SMU community.

Thank you for your support of SMU. Your gift is a lasting legacy that will continue to benefit our students for generations to come. We are proud to have you as a member of our community and look forward to continuing our partnership.

Sincerely,

David J. Chard, Ph.D.

President, Southern Methodist University

Annette Caldwell Simmons Hall was dedicated on Sept. 24, 2010. Hundreds of guests, including students, faculty and staff attended the ribbon-cutting ceremony and open house. A landmark gift of $20 million from Harold C. and Annette Caldwell Simmons '57 in 2007 provided an endowment for the school and its new headquarters.

Master of Liberal Studies students and SMU undergraduates travel with Professor Dennis Simon on

The Luminary Awards were established in 2009 to honor those who reflect meaningful change in education. First recipients pictured with Annette Caldwell Simmons '57 include Margaret Spellings (left), former U.S. Secretary of Education; Geraldine "Tincy" Miller '56, Texas State Board of Education; and Terry Flowers, headmaster and executive director of St. Philips School and Community Center.

"When it comes to doing what works, SMU is among the best in the world. I'm confident that your new school will graduate not only some of the most talented teachers in the profession, but also some of the most prepared for real-world classrooms."

TEDxSMU

Milan Sevak and other Simmons faculty presented at TEDxSMU this year. He directs the new Ed.D program in Educational Leadership (pre-K to 12).

Middle school students in Simmons' Talented and Gifted and Summer Youth programs march with parents and SMU administrators across the Margaret Hunt Hill Bridge in 2012. The students created a model of the Dallas bridge as part of the Trinity Trust's education project celebrating the bridge's open.

David Pogue (left), host of PBS series NOVA, featured the work of Simmons Professor Peter Weyand (right) in an Oct. 16, 2013 broadcast, "Making Students Faster." Weyand is one of the world's leading scholars on the scientific understanding of human speed.

Dean David Chard (left) moderates a discussion at the first education symposium sponsored by the George W. Bush Institute in 2010. Pictured with him are former North Carolina Governor James B. Hunt, Jr., and Bush Institute Fellows James Guthrie and Sandy Kress.

The Budd Center

Jayda Batchelder (left), founding executive director of Education Opens Doors, and Gloria Lopez, program director at TRM, attend a quarterly training meeting hosted by The Budd Center.

"The Budd Center is a radical concept that looks at every factor that influences success – and ultimately helps communities improve their lives, their schools and their children's futures,"

Former superintendents Dawson Orr (left), Highland Park ISD, Linus Wright, Dallas ISD, and Steve Caldwell (right), Dallas ISD, and Simmons '57, SMU President R. Gerald Turner, and Dean David Chard celebrate the school's tenth anniversary, Oct. 13, 2015.