UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS

Registration in the University is a declaration of acceptance of all University rules and regulations.

The University, through its student body, maintains a high standard of scholarship, of character, and of consideration for others. A student whose conduct or influence is detrimental to the best interests of the student body may be requested to withdraw.

Drinking or gambling, hazing, dishonorable conduct, and any other behavior unbecoming to a student of Southern Methodist University render the student liable to disciplinary action. In addition, it should be remembered that even of the most responsible manner at all times. Flagrant misconduct or continuous violation of the rules and regulations will merit suspension or expulsion, as determined by The Faculty Committee on Discipline.

Each student agrees to leave the University and University neighborhood quietly and immediately when the student is directed to do so by a constituted disciplinary authority of the University. Such student is expected to appear on campus only for official school business during the period of ban.

The Deans of Men and Women cooperate with the administration and enforcement of policies established by The Faculty Committee on Discipline.

The faculty welcomes the hearty cooperation of the Students Association in the maintenance of high standards, and relies upon student sentiment and leadership in student self-government to support good conduct. Cooperation is enhanced by student participation on several faculty and administrative committees.

Church Attendance.—All students are urged to attend church in worship.

Loss of personal property.—The University is not responsible for the loss of personal property belonging to students in any building owned by the University, whether the loss results from theft, fire, or unknown cause.

Physical Education.—All freshmen students, whatever their purpose in attending the University, are required to take physical education or the Air Force ROTC or General Military Course (for men), and must represent four hours each of these courses to fulfill graduation requirements. Junior students of senior standing who
